Administration Eyes on Get The Western Metropolis.

THE MAYORALTY ELECTION A TEST

Which is to show how the President stands in the World's Fair City, say the Chicagoans. The Chicago mayoralty election this month by President Cleveland, and what follows is given for what it is worth. For one thing it is stated that what the president of the United States said to the governor of Illinois at his private meeting Wednesday night is of more importance than the traditional communication between the governors of the respective Carolinas. It was observed that Governor Altgeld did not reach the Shields banquet until 11 o'clock, long after the other guests had arrived. The mystery was cleared up later. At 10 o'clock Wednesday evening a messenger brought a note from the president to Governor Altgeld, inviting him to call at the White House.

Had a Private Chat with Governor. Shortly afterward the governor entered a carriage and was driven to the executive mansion, where he spent an hour in private conversation with the president. There was an effort to maintain secrecy about the governor's call. Only two members of the governor's Illinois party knew of it and they expressed great surprise that it was known outside of their limited circle. The whole party made a formal call on the president yesterday and the governor made his formal obeisance to the chief magistrate of the United States with as much solemn dignity as if they had not chatted for more than an hour the night before.

A Wink Worth Several Nods. But sharp observers thought they could detect a slight wink of the president's eye as he grasped the governor's hand. There seems to be no doubt that the president sent for Governor Altgeld to consult with him in regard to Chicago politics. Governor Altgeld is not here asking for any patronage. President Cleveland is deeply interested in John P. Hopkins' race for the mayoralty. He regards it as a test of the administration's strength with the Chicago people. The president has voluntarily conferred the leadership of the administration Democratic upon Hopkins by allowing him practically to name the Chicago federal officials.

Deeply Interested in Illinois. Cleveland is anxious to see how this will take. He is deeply interested in the whole political situation in Illinois, the senatorial situation included. It is very likely that Governor Altgeld told Cleveland that he was not a candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Allison, for he has frankly avowed this fact to more than one person during his stay here. Altgeld also is interested in the success of Hopkins, but says he will not be able to make any special in the campaign.

In fact interest in the Chicago election increases each hour. Congressmen McGinn will be in the fight before the week ends and Representatives Goldzier and Durbin will leave for Chicago Saturday. Senator Palmer has promised, if possible, to take part in the campaign for Hopkins.

ESTIMATES AND APPROPRIATIONS.

A Few Figures Gathered From the Appropriations Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The clerks of the senate and house committee on appropriations have prepared a table showing the estimates and appropriations for the year 1894 and making a comparison with the estimates of 1893 as submitted by the treasury department. THE COLD STORAGE FIRE.

Rumor That a Fire Chief's Inactivity Caused the Horror.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Among thinking people it has always been a mystery how it came that at the time of the fire in the cold storage warehouse at the World's fair, which caused the death of so many men, the firemen were sent to such certain destruction as they were. It is now said that they went under the peremptory orders of Fire Chief Murphy, and that the orders were given when the chief was mentally unsound, and that the trouble with the chief was caused by a fall from a truck which injured his head some time previous to that holocaust.

Shortly after the fire Murphy was missing from his post at Jackson park, and it is said that two well-known physicians had at the time the accident occurred in which Murphy was hurt declared that it had caused a clot of blood on his brain that might at any time develop insanity. Murphy is admitted to be on sick leave, and Chief Swenon who does not know that Murphy is insane, that he has not been retired, and that he cannot say whether he will be until the physicians report on the case.
